Real Estate Question Bank

Mississippi Real Estate Practice Test

Free Real Estate License Practice Questions with Answers

- 50 carefully curated practice questions
- Real exam format and difficulty
- Updated for 2026 regulations
- Print-ready professional design

Ready to pass your exam? Practice with our interactive exam simulator:

Start Free Simulator at realestatequestionbank.com

Premium Access: Full Question Bank • Real Mock Tests • Smart Dashboard

Practice Questions

1. Seller Sarah lists their home for $1,50,000 under an Exclusive Agency Listing agreement with a broker. If Sarah finds a buyer independently, how much commission is owed to the broker?

A) No commission is owed.
B) The full contracted commission is owed.
C) Exactly 50% of the commission is owed.
D) A commission is only owed for advertising costs.

2. Buyer David submits an offer to purchase a property from Michael for $1,51,500. If Michael signs the offer but changes the closing date by two days, what is the legal status?

A) A valid contract exists because the change is minor.
B) The original offer is rejected, and a new counteroffer has been created.
C) The contract is voidable at the buyer's sole discretion.
D) An implied contract is immediately formed.

3. Which of the following describes the primary purpose of the Statute of Frauds in real estate transactions?

A) To prevent fraudulent advertising by licensed agents.
B) To require that all contracts for the transfer of real estate interests be in writing to be enforceable.
C) To regulate interest rates on residential loans.
D) To establish standard commissions for brokerages.

4. Seller Michael lists their home for $1,54,500 under an Exclusive Agency Listing agreement with a broker. If Michael finds a buyer independently, how much commission is owed to the broker?

A) No commission is owed.
B) The full contracted commission is owed.
C) Exactly 50% of the commission is owed.
D) A commission is only owed for advertising costs.

5. Buyer Emily submits an offer to purchase a property from Ashley for $1,56,000. If Ashley signs the offer but changes the closing date by two days, what is the legal status?

A) A valid contract exists because the change is minor.
B) The original offer is rejected, and a new counteroffer has been created.
C) The contract is voidable at the buyer's sole discretion.
D) An implied contract is immediately formed.

6. Which of the following describes the primary purpose of the Statute of Frauds in real estate transactions?

A) To prevent fraudulent advertising by licensed agents.
B) To require that all contracts for the transfer of real estate interests be in writing to be enforceable.
C) To regulate interest rates on residential loans.
D) To establish standard commissions for brokerages.

7. Seller Ashley lists their home for $1,59,000 under an Exclusive Agency Listing agreement with a broker. If Ashley finds a buyer independently, how much commission is owed to the broker?

A) No commission is owed.
B) The full contracted commission is owed.
C) Exactly 50% of the commission is owed.
D) A commission is only owed for advertising costs.

8. Buyer Robert submits an offer to purchase a property from John for $1,60,500. If John signs the offer but changes the closing date by two days, what is the legal status?

A) A valid contract exists because the change is minor.
B) The original offer is rejected, and a new counteroffer has been created.
C) The contract is voidable at the buyer's sole discretion.
D) An implied contract is immediately formed.

9. Which of the following describes the primary purpose of the Statute of Frauds in real estate transactions?

A) To prevent fraudulent advertising by licensed agents.
B) To require that all contracts for the transfer of real estate interests be in writing to be enforceable.
C) To regulate interest rates on residential loans.
D) To establish standard commissions for brokerages.

10. Seller John lists their home for $1,63,500 under an Exclusive Agency Listing agreement with a broker. If John finds a buyer independently, how much commission is owed to the broker?

A) No commission is owed.
B) The full contracted commission is owed.
C) Exactly 50% of the commission is owed.
D) A commission is only owed for advertising costs.

11. Buyer Megan submits an offer to purchase a property from Brian for $1,65,000. If Brian signs the offer but changes the closing date by two days, what is the legal status?

A) A valid contract exists because the change is minor.
B) The original offer is rejected, and a new counteroffer has been created.
C) The contract is voidable at the buyer's sole discretion.
D) An implied contract is immediately formed.

12. Which of the following describes the primary purpose of the Statute of Frauds in real estate transactions?

A) To prevent fraudulent advertising by licensed agents.
B) To require that all contracts for the transfer of real estate interests be in writing to be enforceable.
C) To regulate interest rates on residential loans.
D) To establish standard commissions for brokerages.

13. Seller Brian lists their home for $1,68,000 under an Exclusive Agency Listing agreement with a broker. If Brian finds a buyer independently, how much commission is owed to the broker?

A) No commission is owed.
B) The full contracted commission is owed.
C) Exactly 50% of the commission is owed.
D) A commission is only owed for advertising costs.

14. Buyer Taylor submits an offer to purchase a property from Karen for $1,69,500. If Karen signs the offer but changes the closing date by two days, what is the legal status?

A) A valid contract exists because the change is minor.
B) The original offer is rejected, and a new counteroffer has been created.
C) The contract is voidable at the buyer's sole discretion.
D) An implied contract is immediately formed.

15. Which of the following describes the primary purpose of the Statute of Frauds in real estate transactions?

A) To prevent fraudulent advertising by licensed agents.
B) To require that all contracts for the transfer of real estate interests be in writing to be enforceable.
C) To regulate interest rates on residential loans.
D) To establish standard commissions for brokerages.

16. Seller Karen lists their home for $1,72,500 under an Exclusive Agency Listing agreement with a broker. If Karen finds a buyer independently, how much commission is owed to the broker?

A) No commission is owed.
B) The full contracted commission is owed.
C) Exactly 50% of the commission is owed.
D) A commission is only owed for advertising costs.

17. Buyer Matthew submits an offer to purchase a property from Sarah for $1,74,000. If Sarah signs the offer but changes the closing date by two days, what is the legal status?

A) A valid contract exists because the change is minor.
B) The original offer is rejected, and a new counteroffer has been created.
C) The contract is voidable at the buyer's sole discretion.
D) An implied contract is immediately formed.

18. Which of the following describes the primary purpose of the Statute of Frauds in real estate transactions?

A) To prevent fraudulent advertising by licensed agents.
B) To require that all contracts for the transfer of real estate interests be in writing to be enforceable.
C) To regulate interest rates on residential loans.
D) To establish standard commissions for brokerages.

19. Seller Sarah lists their home for $1,77,000 under an Exclusive Agency Listing agreement with a broker. If Sarah finds a buyer independently, how much commission is owed to the broker?

A) No commission is owed.
B) The full contracted commission is owed.
C) Exactly 50% of the commission is owed.
D) A commission is only owed for advertising costs.

20. Buyer David submits an offer to purchase a property from Michael for $1,78,500. If Michael signs the offer but changes the closing date by two days, what is the legal status?

A) A valid contract exists because the change is minor.
B) The original offer is rejected, and a new counteroffer has been created.
C) The contract is voidable at the buyer's sole discretion.
D) An implied contract is immediately formed.

21. Which of the following describes the primary purpose of the Statute of Frauds in real estate transactions?

A) To prevent fraudulent advertising by licensed agents.
B) To require that all contracts for the transfer of real estate interests be in writing to be enforceable.
C) To regulate interest rates on residential loans.
D) To establish standard commissions for brokerages.

22. Seller Michael lists their home for $1,81,500 under an Exclusive Agency Listing agreement with a broker. If Michael finds a buyer independently, how much commission is owed to the broker?

A) No commission is owed.
B) The full contracted commission is owed.
C) Exactly 50% of the commission is owed.
D) A commission is only owed for advertising costs.

23. Buyer Emily submits an offer to purchase a property from Ashley for $1,83,000. If Ashley signs the offer but changes the closing date by two days, what is the legal status?

A) A valid contract exists because the change is minor.
B) The original offer is rejected, and a new counteroffer has been created.
C) The contract is voidable at the buyer's sole discretion.
D) An implied contract is immediately formed.

24. Which of the following describes the primary purpose of the Statute of Frauds in real estate transactions?

A) To prevent fraudulent advertising by licensed agents.
B) To require that all contracts for the transfer of real estate interests be in writing to be enforceable.
C) To regulate interest rates on residential loans.
D) To establish standard commissions for brokerages.

25. Seller Ashley lists their home for $1,86,000 under an Exclusive Agency Listing agreement with a broker. If Ashley finds a buyer independently, how much commission is owed to the broker?

A) No commission is owed.
B) The full contracted commission is owed.
C) Exactly 50% of the commission is owed.
D) A commission is only owed for advertising costs.

26. Buyer Robert submits an offer to purchase a property from John for $1,87,500. If John signs the offer but changes the closing date by two days, what is the legal status?

A) A valid contract exists because the change is minor.
B) The original offer is rejected, and a new counteroffer has been created.
C) The contract is voidable at the buyer's sole discretion.
D) An implied contract is immediately formed.

27. Which of the following describes the primary purpose of the Statute of Frauds in real estate transactions?

A) To prevent fraudulent advertising by licensed agents.
B) To require that all contracts for the transfer of real estate interests be in writing to be enforceable.
C) To regulate interest rates on residential loans.
D) To establish standard commissions for brokerages.

28. Seller John lists their home for $1,90,500 under an Exclusive Agency Listing agreement with a broker. If John finds a buyer independently, how much commission is owed to the broker?

A) No commission is owed.
B) The full contracted commission is owed.
C) Exactly 50% of the commission is owed.
D) A commission is only owed for advertising costs.

29. Buyer Megan submits an offer to purchase a property from Brian for $1,92,000. If Brian signs the offer but changes the closing date by two days, what is the legal status?

A) A valid contract exists because the change is minor.
B) The original offer is rejected, and a new counteroffer has been created.
C) The contract is voidable at the buyer's sole discretion.
D) An implied contract is immediately formed.

30. Which of the following describes the primary purpose of the Statute of Frauds in real estate transactions?

A) To prevent fraudulent advertising by licensed agents.
B) To require that all contracts for the transfer of real estate interests be in writing to be enforceable.
C) To regulate interest rates on residential loans.
D) To establish standard commissions for brokerages.

31. Seller Brian lists their home for $1,95,000 under an Exclusive Agency Listing agreement with a broker. If Brian finds a buyer independently, how much commission is owed to the broker?

A) No commission is owed.
B) The full contracted commission is owed.
C) Exactly 50% of the commission is owed.
D) A commission is only owed for advertising costs.

32. Buyer Taylor submits an offer to purchase a property from Karen for $1,96,500. If Karen signs the offer but changes the closing date by two days, what is the legal status?

A) A valid contract exists because the change is minor.
B) The original offer is rejected, and a new counteroffer has been created.
C) The contract is voidable at the buyer's sole discretion.
D) An implied contract is immediately formed.

33. Which of the following describes the primary purpose of the Statute of Frauds in real estate transactions?

A) To prevent fraudulent advertising by licensed agents.
B) To require that all contracts for the transfer of real estate interests be in writing to be enforceable.
C) To regulate interest rates on residential loans.
D) To establish standard commissions for brokerages.

34. Seller Karen lists their home for $1,99,500 under an Exclusive Agency Listing agreement with a broker. If Karen finds a buyer independently, how much commission is owed to the broker?

A) No commission is owed.
B) The full contracted commission is owed.
C) Exactly 50% of the commission is owed.
D) A commission is only owed for advertising costs.

35. Buyer Matthew submits an offer to purchase a property from Sarah for $2,01,000. If Sarah signs the offer but changes the closing date by two days, what is the legal status?

A) A valid contract exists because the change is minor.
B) The original offer is rejected, and a new counteroffer has been created.
C) The contract is voidable at the buyer's sole discretion.
D) An implied contract is immediately formed.

36. Which of the following describes the primary purpose of the Statute of Frauds in real estate transactions?

A) To prevent fraudulent advertising by licensed agents.
B) To require that all contracts for the transfer of real estate interests be in writing to be enforceable.
C) To regulate interest rates on residential loans.
D) To establish standard commissions for brokerages.

37. Seller Sarah lists their home for $2,04,000 under an Exclusive Agency Listing agreement with a broker. If Sarah finds a buyer independently, how much commission is owed to the broker?

A) No commission is owed.
B) The full contracted commission is owed.
C) Exactly 50% of the commission is owed.
D) A commission is only owed for advertising costs.

38. Buyer David submits an offer to purchase a property from Michael for $2,05,500. If Michael signs the offer but changes the closing date by two days, what is the legal status?

A) A valid contract exists because the change is minor.
B) The original offer is rejected, and a new counteroffer has been created.
C) The contract is voidable at the buyer's sole discretion.
D) An implied contract is immediately formed.

39. Which of the following describes the primary purpose of the Statute of Frauds in real estate transactions?

A) To prevent fraudulent advertising by licensed agents.
B) To require that all contracts for the transfer of real estate interests be in writing to be enforceable.
C) To regulate interest rates on residential loans.
D) To establish standard commissions for brokerages.

40. Seller Michael lists their home for $2,08,500 under an Exclusive Agency Listing agreement with a broker. If Michael finds a buyer independently, how much commission is owed to the broker?

A) No commission is owed.
B) The full contracted commission is owed.
C) Exactly 50% of the commission is owed.
D) A commission is only owed for advertising costs.

41. Buyer Emily submits an offer to purchase a property from Ashley for $2,10,000. If Ashley signs the offer but changes the closing date by two days, what is the legal status?

A) A valid contract exists because the change is minor.
B) The original offer is rejected, and a new counteroffer has been created.
C) The contract is voidable at the buyer's sole discretion.
D) An implied contract is immediately formed.

42. Which of the following describes the primary purpose of the Statute of Frauds in real estate transactions?

A) To prevent fraudulent advertising by licensed agents.
B) To require that all contracts for the transfer of real estate interests be in writing to be enforceable.
C) To regulate interest rates on residential loans.
D) To establish standard commissions for brokerages.

43. Seller Ashley lists their home for $2,13,000 under an Exclusive Agency Listing agreement with a broker. If Ashley finds a buyer independently, how much commission is owed to the broker?

A) No commission is owed.
B) The full contracted commission is owed.
C) Exactly 50% of the commission is owed.
D) A commission is only owed for advertising costs.

44. Buyer Robert submits an offer to purchase a property from John for $2,14,500. If John signs the offer but changes the closing date by two days, what is the legal status?

A) A valid contract exists because the change is minor.
B) The original offer is rejected, and a new counteroffer has been created.
C) The contract is voidable at the buyer's sole discretion.
D) An implied contract is immediately formed.

45. Which of the following describes the primary purpose of the Statute of Frauds in real estate transactions?

A) To prevent fraudulent advertising by licensed agents.
B) To require that all contracts for the transfer of real estate interests be in writing to be enforceable.
C) To regulate interest rates on residential loans.
D) To establish standard commissions for brokerages.

46. Seller John lists their home for $2,17,500 under an Exclusive Agency Listing agreement with a broker. If John finds a buyer independently, how much commission is owed to the broker?

A) No commission is owed.
B) The full contracted commission is owed.
C) Exactly 50% of the commission is owed.
D) A commission is only owed for advertising costs.

47. Buyer Megan submits an offer to purchase a property from Brian for $2,19,000. If Brian signs the offer but changes the closing date by two days, what is the legal status?

A) A valid contract exists because the change is minor.
B) The original offer is rejected, and a new counteroffer has been created.
C) The contract is voidable at the buyer's sole discretion.
D) An implied contract is immediately formed.

48. Which of the following describes the primary purpose of the Statute of Frauds in real estate transactions?

A) To prevent fraudulent advertising by licensed agents.
B) To require that all contracts for the transfer of real estate interests be in writing to be enforceable.
C) To regulate interest rates on residential loans.
D) To establish standard commissions for brokerages.

49. Seller Brian lists their home for $2,22,000 under an Exclusive Agency Listing agreement with a broker. If Brian finds a buyer independently, how much commission is owed to the broker?

A) No commission is owed.
B) The full contracted commission is owed.
C) Exactly 50% of the commission is owed.
D) A commission is only owed for advertising costs.

50. Buyer Taylor submits an offer to purchase a property from Karen for $2,23,500. If Karen signs the offer but changes the closing date by two days, what is the legal status?

A) A valid contract exists because the change is minor.
B) The original offer is rejected, and a new counteroffer has been created.
C) The contract is voidable at the buyer's sole discretion.
D) An implied contract is immediately formed.

Answer Key & Explanations

Question 1: Correct Answer (A)

Explanation: Under an Exclusive Agency Listing, the seller retains the right to sell the property privately without owing any commission.

Question 2: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: Any change to a written offer acts as a rejection and creates a new counteroffer, which must be accepted by the other party.

Question 3: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: The Statute of Frauds requires real estate sales agreements and leases over one year to be in writing to be legally enforceable.

Question 4: Correct Answer (A)

Explanation: Under an Exclusive Agency Listing, the seller retains the right to sell the property privately without owing any commission.

Question 5: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: Any change to a written offer acts as a rejection and creates a new counteroffer, which must be accepted by the other party.

Question 6: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: The Statute of Frauds requires real estate sales agreements and leases over one year to be in writing to be legally enforceable.

Question 7: Correct Answer (A)

Explanation: Under an Exclusive Agency Listing, the seller retains the right to sell the property privately without owing any commission.

Question 8: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: Any change to a written offer acts as a rejection and creates a new counteroffer, which must be accepted by the other party.

Question 9: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: The Statute of Frauds requires real estate sales agreements and leases over one year to be in writing to be legally enforceable.

Question 10: Correct Answer (A)

Explanation: Under an Exclusive Agency Listing, the seller retains the right to sell the property privately without owing any commission.

Question 11: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: Any change to a written offer acts as a rejection and creates a new counteroffer, which must be accepted by the other party.

Question 12: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: The Statute of Frauds requires real estate sales agreements and leases over one year to be in writing to be legally enforceable.

Question 13: Correct Answer (A)

Explanation: Under an Exclusive Agency Listing, the seller retains the right to sell the property privately without owing any commission.

Question 14: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: Any change to a written offer acts as a rejection and creates a new counteroffer, which must be accepted by the other party.

Question 15: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: The Statute of Frauds requires real estate sales agreements and leases over one year to be in writing to be legally enforceable.

Question 16: Correct Answer (A)

Explanation: Under an Exclusive Agency Listing, the seller retains the right to sell the property privately without owing any commission.

Question 17: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: Any change to a written offer acts as a rejection and creates a new counteroffer, which must be accepted by the other party.

Question 18: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: The Statute of Frauds requires real estate sales agreements and leases over one year to be in writing to be legally enforceable.

Question 19: Correct Answer (A)

Explanation: Under an Exclusive Agency Listing, the seller retains the right to sell the property privately without owing any commission.

Question 20: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: Any change to a written offer acts as a rejection and creates a new counteroffer, which must be accepted by the other party.

Question 21: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: The Statute of Frauds requires real estate sales agreements and leases over one year to be in writing to be legally enforceable.

Question 22: Correct Answer (A)

Explanation: Under an Exclusive Agency Listing, the seller retains the right to sell the property privately without owing any commission.

Question 23: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: Any change to a written offer acts as a rejection and creates a new counteroffer, which must be accepted by the other party.

Question 24: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: The Statute of Frauds requires real estate sales agreements and leases over one year to be in writing to be legally enforceable.

Question 25: Correct Answer (A)

Explanation: Under an Exclusive Agency Listing, the seller retains the right to sell the property privately without owing any commission.

Question 26: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: Any change to a written offer acts as a rejection and creates a new counteroffer, which must be accepted by the other party.

Question 27: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: The Statute of Frauds requires real estate sales agreements and leases over one year to be in writing to be legally enforceable.

Question 28: Correct Answer (A)

Explanation: Under an Exclusive Agency Listing, the seller retains the right to sell the property privately without owing any commission.

Question 29: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: Any change to a written offer acts as a rejection and creates a new counteroffer, which must be accepted by the other party.

Question 30: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: The Statute of Frauds requires real estate sales agreements and leases over one year to be in writing to be legally enforceable.

Question 31: Correct Answer (A)

Explanation: Under an Exclusive Agency Listing, the seller retains the right to sell the property privately without owing any commission.

Question 32: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: Any change to a written offer acts as a rejection and creates a new counteroffer, which must be accepted by the other party.

Question 33: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: The Statute of Frauds requires real estate sales agreements and leases over one year to be in writing to be legally enforceable.

Question 34: Correct Answer (A)

Explanation: Under an Exclusive Agency Listing, the seller retains the right to sell the property privately without owing any commission.

Question 35: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: Any change to a written offer acts as a rejection and creates a new counteroffer, which must be accepted by the other party.

Question 36: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: The Statute of Frauds requires real estate sales agreements and leases over one year to be in writing to be legally enforceable.

Question 37: Correct Answer (A)

Explanation: Under an Exclusive Agency Listing, the seller retains the right to sell the property privately without owing any commission.

Question 38: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: Any change to a written offer acts as a rejection and creates a new counteroffer, which must be accepted by the other party.

Question 39: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: The Statute of Frauds requires real estate sales agreements and leases over one year to be in writing to be legally enforceable.

Question 40: Correct Answer (A)

Explanation: Under an Exclusive Agency Listing, the seller retains the right to sell the property privately without owing any commission.

Question 41: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: Any change to a written offer acts as a rejection and creates a new counteroffer, which must be accepted by the other party.

Question 42: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: The Statute of Frauds requires real estate sales agreements and leases over one year to be in writing to be legally enforceable.

Question 43: Correct Answer (A)

Explanation: Under an Exclusive Agency Listing, the seller retains the right to sell the property privately without owing any commission.

Question 44: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: Any change to a written offer acts as a rejection and creates a new counteroffer, which must be accepted by the other party.

Question 45: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: The Statute of Frauds requires real estate sales agreements and leases over one year to be in writing to be legally enforceable.

Question 46: Correct Answer (A)

Explanation: Under an Exclusive Agency Listing, the seller retains the right to sell the property privately without owing any commission.

Question 47: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: Any change to a written offer acts as a rejection and creates a new counteroffer, which must be accepted by the other party.

Question 48: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: The Statute of Frauds requires real estate sales agreements and leases over one year to be in writing to be legally enforceable.

Question 49: Correct Answer (A)

Explanation: Under an Exclusive Agency Listing, the seller retains the right to sell the property privately without owing any commission.

Question 50: Correct Answer (B)

Explanation: Any change to a written offer acts as a rejection and creates a new counteroffer, which must be accepted by the other party.