

- Third violation (or more) within 18 months - penalty of $300

After the following revocations, you must pay a civil penalty to DMV before your application for a new license can be accepted:

- Operating without insurance or accident without insurance: $750 civil penalty.
- Chemical test refusal: $500 civil penalty ($550 if while driving a commercial motor vehicle).
- Chemical test refusal within five years of an earlier alcohol, drug or refusal-related revocation: $750 civil penalty.

DRIVER RESPONSIBILITY ASSESSMENTS

In addition to any fines, fees, penalties and surcharges authorized by law, you may have to pay a "Driver Responsibility Assessment" for some violations that result in a conviction or administrative finding. Your learner permit, driver license or driving privileges will be suspended if you do not make these payments.

If you are convicted of Aggravated Driving While Intoxicated (Agg-DWI), Driving While Intoxicated (DWI), Driving While Ability Impaired (DWAI), Driving While Ability Impaired by Drugs, DWAI-alcohol combined with drugs, or if you refused to submit to a chemical test, you will be required to pay a driver responsibility assessment of $250 each year for the next three years.

If you are convicted of one or more traffic violations resulting in six points in any 18-month period, you will be required to pay $100 each year for the next three years. For each additional point you receive during that period, you will be required to pay another $25 per point every year for three years. For information about how points are assessed, see "The Point System" in this chapter.

This assessment applies to motorists convicted of violations while driving motor vehicles, and in some cases, motorboats and snowmobiles.

Completion of a DMV-approved "Motor Vehicle Accident Prevention Course" will not prevent or reduce the calculation of points that affect the Driver Responsibility Assessment.

DRIVING WHILE SUSPENDED OR REVOKED

It is a criminal offense to drive while your license is suspended or revoked, and there are mandatory fines from $200 to $5,000. You can face mandatory imprisonment or probation. The vehicle being driven could be seized and forfeited. More severe penalties apply to drivers who drive while intoxicated or impaired by alcohol or drugs while their license or privilege are already under suspension or revocation for a previous alcohol or drug-related incident. Drivers with 10 or more suspensions for failure to answer traffic tickets are also subject to severe penalties. Drivers with 20 or more suspensions for failure to answer tickets face a criminal charge, even if you were not driving when arrested.
